LASVIT
LATerna
MAGICA/
The Laterna Magica exhibition builds on the mutual relation between objects, light and space, while looking at glass from an architect’s point of view. The name is derived from an early type of image-projector developed in the 17th century. That device used hand-painted sheets of glass, a lens and a bright light-source to project images. Using video mapping, Lasvit simulates this principle through glass objects and light to tell the unique stories of artistic visions revealed through glass.

DUNA

by Zaha Hadid Design

— Duna was inspired by the coherent yet abstract logic of dune formations that defy traditional Cartesian geometries. Its design concept is realized in a three-dimensional, asymmetrical, pair of intersecting glass forms. The striated surface of the crystal glass produces ever-changing effects of reflection and refraction. Narrowly directed light sources beam light through the mass of glass into the entire glass element, highlighting its geometry.

EVE

by Zaha Hadid Design

— Composed of fifteen glass pieces arranged in one intriguing ensemble, Eve is chandelier that combines traditional glassmaking techniques with parametric design. Informed by Hadid’s renowned design language, the composition is fluid and organic, accentuating differences between clear and smoke elements.

Suspended at varying heights, the glass bodies gracefully float in space and create an impressive play of light and shadow. Its sculptural qualities, notable in daylight, open to new dimensions in the evening.
YAKISUGI

by Kengo Kuma

The Yakisugi collection is inspired by the ancient Japanese technique for preserving construction timber by charring its surface. Kengo Kuma explains “The idea behind Yakisugi collection is about questioning the materiality of glass and natural wooden texture. My intention was to plumb the depth of wooden soul, captured inside the glass.”

Using dry wood in place of traditional pre-soaked molds, the wood is charred by molten glass. That leaves a permanent imprint of its scorched texture on the glass surface, making each piece an authentic original. This slight modification to a centuries-old technique produced a modern and minimalistic collection that combines simple geometric forms with unusual organic textures.
The Cipher collection for Lasvit is a juxtaposition of heritage techniques and modern form. Inspired by the versatility and texture of surface-patterning and the way in which it catches light, the delicate hand-blown crystal cylindrical pieces are cut with clean, clear lines. With components arranged in series and joined by polished champagne-gold finished connections that emit light, Cipher’s overall linear form creates a poetic visual rhythm. Regardless of the configuration, there exists an inherent simplicity and earnestness in the effect of light playing off these delicate, perfectly clear etched glass cylinders.

FLUX
by Ed Ng & Terence Ngan
— The Flux collection was inspired by light reflecting off the ocean in shallow water and the traces left by the receding tide. Each lamp is hand-blown using a metal mold to provide its unique appearance. The clear top meets with inner and outer hand-painted gold and platinum layers, referencing the decoration of traditional Asian ceramics. Its organic lines trap and refract light between the layers to create a deep radiance and the impression of water in motion.

CRYSTAL ROCK

by Arik Levy

— Crystal Rock is created with a perfectly cut, yet roughly sculpted contemporary silex that highlights the interaction between light and darkness, suspended in the air like a frozen shooting star. The world stands still the moment you gaze upon it, its multiple reflections and deflections fascinating during the day and even more dynamic at night. Following the success of his Crystal Rock pendant lights, Arik Levy extended this versatile design line with the Crystal Rock vases.
by Lucie Koldova
—— Small and large transparent pendants multiplied. Spin light’s expression of dynamics is based on a simple rotational form known as the spinning top. It gives the lights a basic graphic impression.

Clear transparent airy lamps with a touch of color on top are powered by small LED efficient discs, which highlight strong silhouettes to float freely in the space as empty volumes.
“AND WHY NOT!”

by Rene Roubicek

—— Chandelier designed for Lasvit named by its author “And Why Not!” refers to his lifelong experimentation and search for compositions and forms imprinted in glass.

The chandelier’s emotionally intense sculptural form resembles a flash and is an evolution of Roubicek’s core designs based on dynamic abstraction. Light gliding on large smoothly polished surfaces while absorbed by the mass of the glass creates a unique atmosphere.
Lasvit is proud to present lighting sculpture by Stanislav Libensky – a set of original pendants designed for and installed in the Hotel Praha, a prominent architectural project completed during the 1980’s. Although presenting the best of contemporary design, the hotel was later torn down on the premise of being “too large to operate.” Civic efforts to preserve it as a cultural monument failed and these lights are among the few remaining artifacts. Libensky used varying thicknesses of glass to create a play of rays and shadows on the fixtures themselves as well as the surrounding interiors. Natural light creates a positive/negative image pattern directly on the glass. Amassing fixtures in a variety of shapes and heights enables diverse effects from a fireball look to more delicate forms resembling a kaleidoscope. These distinctive features, as well as variability of use, make the Praha lighting sculpture a timeless design.
FROZEN

by Maxim Velcovsky

The Frozen collection was inspired by the transformation of water into ice. This moment is similar to work in a glassmaker shop. Velcovsky allows the glass to spill over a metal form and seeks advantage in its natural properties. Each piece traces a unique record of the process, becoming an original.

Velcovsky found inspiration among pieces of ice created by nature and applied that element of randomness in nature to his craft in the context of glassmaking. Glassmakers understand their material always ‘freezes’ at some moment in the process and only the most skilled hands are capable of creating a unique form.

LOLLIPOP

by Boris Klimek

— Designer experimented with the technique of slumped glass, exploring its wide possibilities in terms of glass coloring, glint and internal structure. Made of amorphous glass plates, combined with the metal holder and inserted light source, the resulting objects are reminiscent of lollipops. The Lollipop collection consists of table and stand-alone lamps, as well as pendant lights.
by Andre Fu Living

— Celebrating Fu’s signature language of ‘relaxed luxury,’ this collection is an ode to a truly tactile material that embodies religious, institutional and monumental architecture.

TAC/TILE was inspired by the 1932 Maison de Verre (a.k.a. House of Glass), Czech metropolitan passageways, traditional Chinese tiled roofs, the Flatiron Building, as well as modernist glass blocks. The purist triangular profile became the core form adapted into a spectrum of applications - from table lamps and floor lamps to suspended pendants.
by Moritz Waldemeyer
—— As if trying to systematize the chandelier-making tradition, Moritz Waldemeyer took the geometrical shape of the Classic chandelier outline and turned it into a diamond-like hexagonal glass unit.

On its own with just a single pendant, or in combination of multiple items into a large chandelier, the FACET components stand out as clear, disciplined and geometric. The light source included inside every pendant allows the FACET to be universal and almost unlimitedly extendable.
by Campana Brothers
— The Fungo chandelier was inspired by the fascinating shape of a mushroom growing on wood. Yet this mushroom didn’t grow in the forest, but was discovered in the basement of Lasvit’s glassworks, where an ancient wooden glassblowing mold had succumbed to the ravages of humidity.

The Campana Brothers chose to blend this newfound accidental theme with Lasvit’s glassmaking tradition and fuse their techniques with natural materials. The resulting artwork displays a striking contrast between the formal rigidity of the chandelier’s wooden structure and the blown-glass that appears to emerge spontaneously from the wood.
EMPRESS

by Jakub Berdych

— Inspired by the traditional shape of chandeliers popular during the reign of Empress Maria Theresa, this contemporary reflection on the iconic style opens itself to refreshing new details. Its individual trimmings are withheld prior to final cutting and polishing, allowing the pressed glass to include its overburden edge.

This effect captures the sense of glass being exposed to heat and pressure, sustaining a sense of motion. The impression is further enhanced by using the technique of metal-coating of glass that adds depth, sheen and iridescence. The Empress chandelier is an example of excellent craftsmanship combined with the raw sense of the unfinished trimming.

LUDWIG

by Maurizio Galante

— The Ludwig collection strives to establish balance between past and future. The bygone romantic era with its neoclassical proportions is reinterpreted with essentially slick, streamlined forms.

While the contours remain loyal to their neoclassical style chandelier references, the use of industrial glass tubes imbues this family of spectacular lights with an airy and strikingly modern elegance.
Zaha Hadid Design

As an architect and designer, Zaha Hadid’s work explored spatial concepts and scales from the city to individual product – sculptural jewelry and limited edition furniture pieces, homeware items and fashion accessories - as well as interior, exhibition and set design commissions. ZHD was established in 2006 under the direction of Woody Yao and Maha Khatou to implement the latest technological and material innovations in collaboration with the world’s most respected brands. ZHD also features a gallery space arranged over two floors which hosts an ever-changing program of exhibitions and collaborations. The ZHD Gallery regularly showcases work by emerging designers, young artists and innovative fabricators, as well as hosting a variety of collateral events.

Kengo Kuma

Kengo Kuma is a renowned Japanese architect and professor at the University of Tokyo Graduate School of Architecture. He established Kengo Kuma & Associates in 1990 after earning his degree at the University of Tokyo in 1979 and studying further at Columbia University as a Visiting Scholar. His architectural office completed a series of highly acclaimed and award-winning projects both in Japan and abroad. Currently, about 100 projects are underway in Asia, Europe and the USA, including the new National Stadium in Japan. Renowned as a prolific writer, his widely read books are published in English, Chinese and Korean. His collaboration with Lasvit extends a design philosophy that encompasses architecture, furniture design and new glassworks.

Yabu Pushelberg

Founded in 1980 by George Yabu and Glenn Pushelberg, the Yabu Pushelberg design firm is now one of the most recognized design firms worldwide. The firm’s multidisciplinary approach is informed by its endless curiosity and driven by thoughtful, creative and like-minded partnerships. Recognized as design industry innovators, the firm earned countless accolades for their work and contribution to international design excellence, including appointment as Officers for the Order of Canada. With studios in Tokyo and New York and current projects in sixteen countries, attention to detail and a spirit of exploration remains a hallmark of the firm. The Lasvit collection was developed following their successful collaboration on oversized diamond-like chandeliers for the Four Seasons Kuwait.

Jan Plechac & Henry Wielgus

Arik Levy

Arik Levy is an artist, technician, photographer, designer and filmmaker. Levy’s skills are multi-disciplinary and his work can be seen in prestigious galleries and museums worldwide. Best known publicly for his sculptures – such as his signature Rock pieces - his installations, limited editions and design, Levy nevertheless feels that ‘the world is about people, not objects’.

Lucie Koldova

Lucie Koldova is a product and furniture designer. She moved to Paris in 2009 and spent a year in Arik Levy’s studio. Simultaneously she continued to develop her own creations for various companies. Koldova established her own studio in Paris in 2012. She appreciates influences, inspiration and different cultures melting together in the city where she continues working for international clients.

René Roubicek

René Roubicek is an icon of Czech glass design. Glass art as an independent discipline was actually born in Czechoslovakia and it was first introduced to the world by Roubicek, over half a century ago. His spatial dimensional abstract compositions combining metal and glass caused a sensation at the 1958 Expo in Brussels. Roubicek subsequently won the Grand Prix Expo award. His work appears in many major galleries worldwide.

Boris Klimek

Boris Klimek studied at the Zlin Atelier of the Academy of Arts, Architecture and Design in Prague. He received numerous prizes for his work and is currently based in Prague, where he focuses on product and interior design, as well as exhibition displays. His designs entail conceptual overlaps and often carry stories. Klimek’s designs aim at both function and beauty – particularly through their poetry, playfulness and ability to spark fantasy and emotion.

Andre Fu Living

Andre Fu is a Hong Kong based interior designer. He was educated in the United Kingdom and gained international acclaim for his design of the Upper House luxury hotel. His boutique studio created a series of internationally-recognized works in sensuous and unique projects. Fu’s approach to interior architecture is an innovative mix of new American sensibilities, with clarity in space planning and keen attention to the details of everyday life. His new AFL brand plans to expand into different areas of lifestyle, including a home fragrance.

Moritz Waldemeyer

Moritz Waldemeyer is an internationally renowned designer based in London. His work occupies a diverse range of creative spaces, from art and product design to fashion and entertainment. Studio Moritz Waldemeyer is renowned for its forward thinking and playful experimentation, forging links between technology, art, fashion and design. Waldemeyer’s interest in light and its implementation also results in bespoke light-studded costumes for WIll.AAT, Rihanna, Take That and the 2012 London Olympics handover Ceremony performers.

Campaña Brothers

The Campaña Brothers, Fernando and Humberto are Brazilian designers who teamed up in 1983 to make unique furniture using diverse materials, including recycled products and plush toys. Their work incorporates themes of transformation and reinvention. From 1997, their furniture began to be produced and sold in Italy. In 1998 they became the first Brazilian artists to exhibit their work at The Museum of Modern Art in New York, achieving international recognition. Currently they are represented in galleries in New York, London, Paris and Rome.

Jakub Berdych

Jakub Berdych is a co-founder of the Qubus Design Studio focusing primarily on conceptual work in traditional Czech materials such as glass and porcelain. His work spans products and comprehensive collections known both locally and abroad, including the reconstruction of interior church St. Bartholomew in Chodovice, installations in the Moss Gallery in New York and London Mint Gallery. In addition to conceptual and product design, Berdych focuses on implementations in the field of interior architecture and fine arts. He is the artistic director of the Gallery Store Dox by Qubus, located in the premises of the contemporary art gallery Dox in Prague and offering a distinct selection of design and applied arts.

Maurizio Galante

Maurizio Galante is one of the world’s most respected haute couture fashion designers. His distinctive language is particularly valuable in contemporary high fashion and his creations are executed with a profound respect for traditional craftsmanship. They poetically combine an architect’s in-depth knowledge with the fine workmanship of the French Haute Couture atelier and the impeccable skills of Italian manufacturing. He first teamed up with Lasvit glassmakers in 2013 to express his artistic visions in glass.

SHANGHAI
Lasvit, founded in 2007 by Leon Jakimic, is a cutting-edge Czech based manufacturer of unique works of glass. In a mere ten years, Lasvit established itself as the authority delivering bespoke lighting installations, glass sculptures, lights and glassware collections as well as unique architectural glass elements. Honoring the craft, Lasvit combines the authenticity of glass with innovative ideas, all while cultivating the millennium-length tradition of Bohemian glassmaking.

“Ten years ago, I founded Lasvit holding the vision of a progressive company that would cherish the extraordinary craftsmanship of our ancestors and present innovative and cutting-edge ideas and inspirations,” said Leon Jakimic, President and Founder of Lasvit. “My goal was to establish a company that would become a key initiator of the rebirth of Bohemian glass production, spreading the fame and unique craftsmanship of Czech master glassmakers worldwide, while bringing beauty, happiness, story and a little piece of Bohemia to the customers all over the world. I’m proud of all the things Lasvit managed to achieve in a mere decade. These results represent true dedication and great creativity, brought together by our passion for glass.”
